

TOURNAMENT BEGUN
BY UNION TYPOS

Week's Festivities Open
With Parade and Ball Game.

Flying the banners of ten cities represented at the tournament of the Union Printers' National Baseball League, one hundred automobiles, carrying more than 500 delegates, paraded the streets of the Capital this afternoon. They were on their way to the National Baseball Park, where the formal opening of the week's festivities was marked by a baseball game between Philadelphia and Washington.

Gayly bedecked with the pennants of various teams and streamers, the automobiles wended their way from the headquarters of the convention at the Ebbitt House to Thirteenth and H streets, and from there to Fifteenth street and down Pennsylvania avenue to the Peace Monument. At the monument a stop was made to have the pictures of the delegates taken. Thence the procession proceeded toward New Jersey avenue, turning down H street, and going north on Seventh street to the park.

In the cars were nearly one hundred women, who accompanied the delegates to the gathering here. Each carried a small flag and "rooted" with vim when they assembled at the park.

Opening of Tournament.

The game this afternoon marked the opening of the tournament, which will continue with an uninterrupted round of play until next Saturday afternoon.

The feature of the program will be the baseball games at American League Park to determine the championship for this year and the leading exhibit of the players is the big silver championship cup, which rests in a parlor at the Ebbitt House.

This is the trophy donated by Garry Herrmann, of Cincinnati, four years ago, and is to become the property of the club winning it three times in succession, and now held by New York.

The contests for its possession will be played each afternoon during the week, and the rest of the days will be taken up with sight-seeing trips to points of interest.

A special attraction for the women will be a shopping tour on Wednesday morning, and they will be the guests at a dinner at the Ebbitt House, Friday evening, while the male guests are being entertained at a stag dinner of the Elks' Club.

Tomorrow will mark the issuance of the Typo Bulletin, a daily paper, which will be published during the tournament. The paper will contain all the departments of a metropolitan daily. The news columns will be devoted mainly to reports of the tournament.

Field day will mark the climax of the stay on Saturday. Following a reception by the Chamber of Commerce, at noon, the visitors will go to the National Park, and there hold a series of field events. At 4:15 the final game between the Eastern and Western winners will be played and the championship trophy awarded.

Opera Star Plans Bungalow in Virginia

MISS FRITZI SCHEFF.

Site For Hotel Abandoned That She Might Build a Home.

HOTEL GIVES WAY
TO FRITZI SCHEFF

Singer Secures Site In Virginia for Erection of Bungalow.

BRISTOL, Va., Sept. 12.—Just to satisfy a whim of Fritz Scheff, the opera singer, who in private life is Mrs. John Fox, Jr., wife of the novelist, who lives near Bristol, and who has acquired fame in the realms of fiction, the erection of a modern new hotel at Big Stone Gap, Va., has been abandoned, and on the site for the proposed hotel will be a handsome bungalow, which Mrs. Fox will call "home."

"Poplar Grove," used as a sort of a park and consisting of about five acres of ground, at Big Stone Gap, is the place that Mrs. Fox has bought. She took a fancy to the site, and at once set about to get it. The people of Big Stone Gap had planned to erect a large hotel on the site, but when the actress set her heart on it, these plans were at once abandoned.

Mrs. Fox is spending the summer at the Fox bungalow near Bristol, and is with her husband, from whom she is separated the most of the year on account of her theatrical engagements. She is very fond of life near Bristol in the mountains. Her husband is engaged on a new book, which his friends say will rival his famous "Little Shepherd of Kingdom Come."

The Foxes will shortly begin the erection of their handsome new bungalow in the beautiful Poplar Grove, where there are scores of magnificent poplar trees standing, and this will be the retreat of the author as well as the comic opera star, when she leaves the footlights. Mr. Fox will do the most of his writing in his new home.

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—News has reached here of a mass meeting at Monrovia, Liberia, at which resolutions were adopted thanking the American friends of the republic for aid rendered in the recent crisis, and declaring that the help of the United States alone saved Liberia from dismemberment at the hands of European powers. The document is signed by members of a committee appointed to voice the sentiments of the gathering.

PATROLMEN TRIED
BY POLICE BOARD

Three Answer Charges of Being Intoxicated—Verdict Reserved.

Accused by J. G. Allen, the proprietor of a coal and lumber yard on Wiley street northeast, of being intoxicated and of being guilty of conduct unbecoming officers of the police force, Privates Williams, Steele, and Castel, all of the Ninth precinct, appeared for trial before the police trial board at the Police Court today.

Some time ago the three policemen entered Allen's place in search of a man whom they had reason to suspect was hiding there. After looking around the yard they went out and met Allen, who demanded to know what business they had in his yard and declared that they were drunk. They refused to give their specific business at Allen's place and he preferred charges against them at headquarters.

At the trial today witnesses were called to prove that the policemen were not under the influence of liquor on the morning specified, and the prosecution was unable to prove that any of them had ever been seen taking a drink. Allen swore that he had seen each of the defendants at the house of one of the defendants, but that was all.

The report of the evidence the trial board, consisting of Inspector Boyle and Captains Elliott and Williams, reserved their verdict until some later time.

BOSTON MAY CANCEL
CAVALIERI CONTRACT

BOSTON, Sept. 12.—Should it prove true that Lina Cavallieri-Chapier, has annexed her husband's entire income and offered him but $5 a week to live on, she is to feel Boston's displeasure. The report of her family difficulties, added to by the story that she accepted attentions from Prince Dalmorek, has had a disturbing effect upon the powers that control the Boston Opera Company. Lina is under contract to sing here next season, but it is understood a cablegram has been sent to Paris telling her that if the report of her separation is true her contract will be canceled.

CAPITAL MAY WIN
NATIONAL MEETINGS

Granville M. Hunt Works for Conservation and Harbors Conventions.

Granville M. Hunt, superintendent of the registry division of the Postoffice, who has been acting as delegate from the Washington Chamber of Commerce and Board of Trade to the second National Conservation Congress, and also as chairman of the conventions committee of the first named body, has just returned from St. Paul.

According to the statement made by Mr. Hunt, there is every reason to suppose that his efforts in this direction will be crowned with success.

There were seven other cities in the fight for the next congress, said Mr. Hunt, "but I really think Washington will get the palm. Los Angeles, Toledo, New Orleans, Seattle, Chicago, Rochester, and Kansas City are all after it; but most of these have been eliminated, and I have the assurance of the outgoing president, Bernardine N. Baker, that next to Baltimore, his home city, he would like to see Washington get it. Baltimore is considered out of the running, however, so that that increases Washington's chances.

The final decision of the executive committee will not be made for some time, and in the meantime I am trying to obtain the National Rivers and Harbors Congress meeting, which will take place next year. Toledo, New Orleans, and Chicago are also after this congress, but I think Washington stands a good show of obtaining it also."

JANITOR AS CAPPER
FOR HIS PASTOR

Alleged to Have Acted As Pilot for Couple Seeking Marriage.

Captain Byrne, of the Sixth precinct, today renewed his orders to his men to be especially watchful for matrimonial cappers who infest the steps of the city hall, looking for unwary couples to steer them up against the "Bless you, my children," of Washington's commercial clergymen.

The latest report of the operations of the steers was made Saturday, when the police say they were notified that the janitor of a nearby church acted as a pilot for a couple from Virginia, who told the deputy clerk of the court that the clergyman at the church in question had offered to tie the knot cheaply.

DESPERATE CONVICTS
ATTEMPT TO ESCAPE

JOLIET, Ill., Sept. 12.—That twenty-five State convicts confined here are not at liberty today is not through any lack of their willingness to take desperate chances. The convicts set fire to the building in which they were employed yesterday, hoping to escape in the confusion which followed. The flames were quickly discovered and the convicts surrounded by guards. They were at work in the prison brickyard.

VANDERBILT BETTER.

NEWPORT, R.I., Sept. 12.—A speedy recovery for Reginald Vanderbilt, who has been suffering from an attack of typhoid fever for two weeks, is predicted by his physicians today. The patient has passed the crisis of the disease, and Dr. Knapp, who has been in constant attendance, says he should be walking about in two weeks.
